Season's Greetings from the Wolberts!

Merry Christmas and Happy 2000 Wishes from the Wolbert Family!

We share our accomplishments of the past year by sending you this booklet of photographs. We hope you enjoy it.

Everyone, Emily, Lisa, Sarah, Miki, and Bob, enjoyed another happy, healthy year.

Emily celebrated her first birthday in April. She now speaks many words (and almost constantly). The love of her life is Elmo from Sesame Street; she watches his videos daily.

THEIR SPRING FINEST (APRIL)

Lisa loves Kindergarten and it seems to love her. Wherever she goes, she meets or makes a friend. She has a following in both regular and dance school.

Sarah is attending third grade and is a math wiz. She also attends Japanese Saturday school. She is a great helper with Emily.

Miki has been very busy with her NuSkin business and her Emily business. She teaches a Tole painting class each week.

Bob decided the company stock was high enough and “retired” in September. Now he consults for other companies on a contract basis—in his spare time.

Overall, we had an exciting and enjoyable year, and the prospects forecast another great one ahead in 2000. Best wishes to you from the San Jose Wolberts!

Trip to Disney World

In February, we traveled to Disney World in Florida. During the week, we visited Cape Canaveral and all four parts of the Magic Kingdom. Sarah got autographs from nearly all the major characters. Lisa spent much of her time searching for Minnie Mouse. Emily was overwhelmed by the whole thing.

Everyone had an excellent time.

Our "Big Girl" Emily

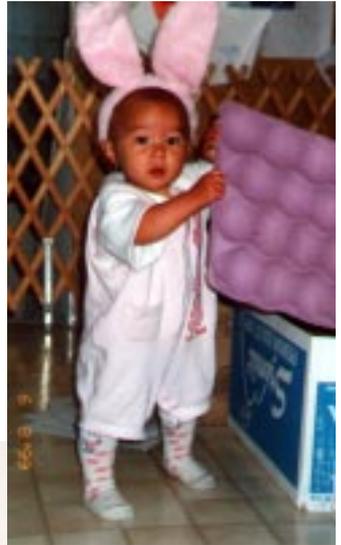

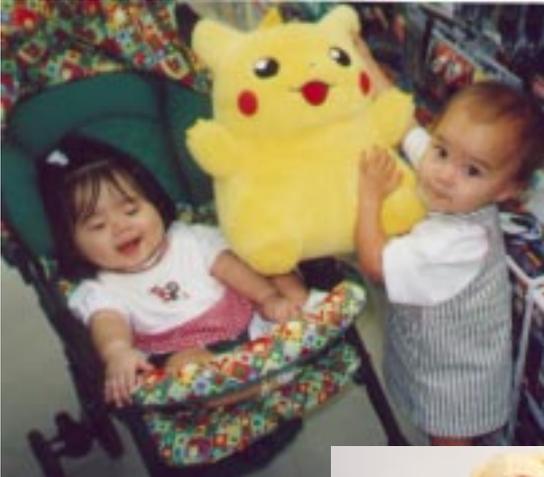

Emily is now a year and a half old, and is capable of most everything. She jabbars continuously and cannot sit still for any length of time. She is fiercely independent and a joy to be around.

Lisa

Lisa started Kindergarten in September and can't wait for school to start each morning. She already knows all the requisite Kindergarten curriculum and is working on arithmetic and "real" reading.

Sarah's Page

Sarah is eight years old, going on sixteen, as you see by her Halloween costume. She played a 1950s-era Rock-n-Roller.
